Patron Request for Reconsideration of Library Materials

The suitability of specific books or other materials in the Heartland Regional Library System (HRLS) collection may occasionally be questioned by individuals or groups. Patrons are free to enjoy, dislike, or ignore any item in the collection. The library does not endorse opinions contained in materials within the collection. The library believes that censorship is purely an individual matter and declares that while anyone is free to reject materials personally, that individual cannot exercise this act of censorship to restrict the freedom of other persons to any materials. The library adheres to the American Library Association's Library Bill of Rights and Freedom to Read Statements.

This request will be reviewed in accordance with the established procedures of the Heartland Regional Library System.
